

Events and Activities During Flagler Shore Project

A temporary design project to expand the waterfront public space for pedestrians, bicyclists, and merchants to create a more dynamic waterfront. You will find additional seating, bistro tables and chairs, public art, street vendors, street performers and various activities. Here's what's happening.

Flagler Shore is a number of events and activities for residents and visitors to enjoy in the expanded public space on the downtown Waterfront. At the same time you explore the temporary changes on Flagler Drive, attend events and activities planned for the next five months, you can provide feedback of your experiences to create a more dynamic waterfront.

Flagler Shore is a temporary design project that repurposes two lanes on Flagler Drive from Lake Avenue to Banyan Boulevard (.6 miles) to expand the waterfront public space for pedestrians, bicyclists, and merchants, as well as allow for additional programming. Visitors can expect additional seating, bistro tables and chairs, public art, street vendors, street performers and various activities along the expanded waterfront space.

During the five-month project that runs through March 1, 2018, Flagler Drive will be reduced from four lanes to two lanes (keeping both southbound and northbound traffic flow).

Below is a listing of events and activities planned along the expanded Flagler Shore waterfront in downtown West Palm Beach.
